

ACCP Global Conference Research Fellowship Platform Presentations Frequently Asked Questions

What is the deadline for abstract submission?

August 22, 2022

What are the notification dates for accept/decline decisions?

Notification by September 5, 2022

If I am not invited to give a podium presentation, will I still be considered for a poster presentation?

You will be considered for both a podium presentation and poster presentation if you check the box indicating you wish to also be considered for a poster presentation when you submit your abstract. Note, if selected to give a podium presentation, you may also give a poster presentation if desired.

Does ACCP offer travel stipends or complimentary registration to presenters?

ACCP offers competitive Resident/Fellow Travel Awards which are administered through the ACCP Foundation and funded by the Resident/Fellow Travel Award Fund. For more information and to apply visit:

<https://www.accp.com/membership/resfelaward.aspx>. The application deadline is August 26, 2022.

Specific support for Fellowship Platform presenters is not available.

What types of research will be considered?

Abstracts submitted for consideration of the Research Fellowship Platform Presentations must follow the abstract structure and instructions for one of these three submission types: Original Research, Encore Presentation or Systematic Reviews/Meta-Analyses. Research must be completed at the time of the submission. The online submission system will only accept abstracts that follow the Original Research format – if you want to submit an Encore or Systematic Review/Meta-Analysis abstract email accp@accp.com.

Who is eligible to submit an abstract?

Those eligible for presentation include current fellowship trainees at the time of submission or who have completed fellowship within the last year.

What is the format for the Research Fellowship Platform Presentations?

The Research Fellowship Platform Presentations will be a 60-minute session at the ACCP Global Conference and consist of multiple short presentations with time for questions/discussion. Each session will be facilitated by moderator(s) who will serve to stimulate discussion.
